

I opposed media consolidation, and Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to require their stations to air "Stolen Honor" days before the election is why.

Sinclair gets free access to public airwaves and, as a result, is required to serve the public interest. Instead, in Madison, Wisconsin we get Mark Hyman's ridiculously partisan News Central "editorials" and now this hatchet job on John Kerry forced on us. I'd rather have local news.

Please noted my comments and take action to ensure that Sinclair is appropriately considering the public interest instead of a political agenda that ultimately benefits its bottom line rather than the public. Thank you.
